

Jawad Ahmed

Jawad Ahmed started his career in sales, but quickly realized his passion was in people development.

After obtaining a degree in management, he spent two years with a training and consulting organization in Qatar and worked across the UAE and Bahrain. After returning to India, he joined a UK-based consulting firm and spent the next 10 years consulting, training, and certifying individuals and organizations on performance management, people development, and evaluation.

Jawad is a Director for C2C Organizational Development Pvt Ltd and is also among the first few to bring pure process facilitation into India as a representative for the International Association of Facilitators (IAF). Jawad has trained thousands of people, and as a certified coach from Results Coaching Systems (RCS) and CEP from Corporate Coach U (Australia), he believes that internal motivation can change any individual and provides the drive to achieve results that are considered impossible.

Over the last 10 years, Jawad has delivered programs across different organizations and sectors in India and the Middle East in the areas of Leadership, Sales, Behavioral Interviewing, Behavioral Communication, and Behavior Styles.
